

ABOUT US

EISCO®, FOUNDED IN 1963 BY HOWARD SINGER, supplies schools, nursing homes, religious, and commercial institutions in New Jersey and New York with professional strength cleaning products and services.

After many years of steady growth, Brad Singer, Howard's son, joined the company in 1991 as Vice President. At that time, Brad launched two new divisions targeting the gaming industry, and food service chains. The gaming and food service divisions became a new source of volume for EISCO®. Additionally, revenues increased in their gaming division when they received a license from the Casino Control Commission.

EISCO® successfully opened their first professional sports team in 1993 in Philadelphia, and another division blossomed - the sports division. EISCO® established a presence and now sells to over 90% of Major League Baseball, in addition to the Minor Leagues. The sports division enjoys a steady 80% growth every year, and now sells to professional sports teams, colleges and universities across the country.

With the success of the sports division, EISCO® launched a retail division, the Clubhouse Kit™. For all athletes, from their head to their toes, our motto "Clubhouse Clean" introduces a new variety of products to the sporting goods industry.

SINCE THE DAWN OF SPORTS, WE HAVE ALL
PLAYED DIRTY. Until now, no clean answer to the inevitability of blood, grass and grime on uniforms, costing teams and parents a fortune in replacements.

This is where EISCO enters the game. In 1993, a professional baseball team in Philadelphia asked us to devise a product that could remove blood and grass stains from their uniforms. The Grass and Blood Eliminator worked so well, they challenged us to a tougher task: get stubborn pine tar stains off of their helmets and uniforms. We delivered the Pine Tar Remover. At this point, we added more product requests, and the Clubhouse Kit™ launched.

Word spread fast; we received orders from pro teams in Florida to solve their uniform challenges. We then traveled to Florida to provide some relief for those tired laundry men in Spring Training. Since that time, our Clubhouse Kit™ products clean may a professional player, from Toronto to Tucson, and everywhere in between.

As the father of two sluggers in Little League, I know first hand the cost and effort required to maintain all of those cleats, socks, and jerseys for every game, including the helmets and bats that clutter the hallways and cause foul odors. Having the advantage to use professional cleaning products in my own home, motivated me to offer our products to all parents of sports playing-kids.

It is for this reason that we extend the Clubhouse Kit™ professional product line to the general public, because whether you are in T-ball or softball – Babe Ruth or the Bigs...you need this product, and love what it can do. Watch stains disappear with minimal effort, leaving you with more time to take care of the more important things in life... watching your kids play the game.

As always, we welcome any comments or suggestions on our products. Please reach us anytime at 877-CLUB-KIT. We look forward to hearing from you. Step up to the plate!

Sincerely,

Brad W. Singer
